GOULD VETS VS. BERLIN VETS
The Gould Academy Vets defeated the Berlin Vets in a basketball game on Friday, Jan. 24. Gould led the margin in the final quarter, making the last few minutes of the game a nip and tuck battle. "Red" Connors was high scorer for the Vets with 11 points. Red's fine floor work and play making was a big factor in the victory for the Gould Vets. Each team netted 16 baskets but Gould's victory was earned when the Vets made 4 out of 14 free throws while the Berlin Vets made just 2 out of 15.

In a return game with the Berlin High Vets at Berlin the Gould Academy Vets dropped a close one by the narrow margin of one point. The final score was 35-34. The Gould Vets were ahead at the half 27-21. In the middle of the third period with Gould leading 43-41 "Red" Connors, play maker of the team, was put out of the game on fouls. Shortly after that Berlin went out on fouls and stayed there. Rob Higgins of Gould was the high scorer of the game with 23 points and contributed much to the fine performance of his team. Dick Thurber and Curly Moors paced Higgins making 11 and 15 points respectively. As in the first game each team made the same number of field goals—27 apiece. But this time Berlin had the edge on foul shooting, making 11 out of 23 while Gould converted 10 out of 20. One foul shot was the margin that spelled victory for the Berlin Vets. A close game—a good game—congratulations to both teams. This makes one game apiece for these teams and if a third game would be arranged it would be one "not to be missed."

GOULD TOPS OLD ORCHARD

Old and Old Orchard battled fairly even terms for three periods; but in the final stanza the Goulds put on a scoring spree, dropping in 20 points in the last eight minutes. The battle started furiously as both teams raged up and down in the first period which ended 10-10 for Gould. The second round, with Davis doing most of the scoring, Gould added three more points to their advantage and led 20-20 at half time. After the rest period the "nip and tuck" battle continued with Gould team able to clinch the game, but Gould managed to cling to its lead and add a point to its score as the score stood 37-30. It was a great rally in the final stanza with Davis and Allen scoring 8 and 5 points each supported by Libby with 4 and Wood with 2 for a period total of 20 points. The remarkable part of the scoring was the fact that 13 of the points came in the first four minutes as then Coach Anderson yanked his regulars to give the reserves a chance to play.

STATE SKI CHAMPIONSHIPS

TO BE HELD AT GOULD

The Maine Principals Association is sponsoring the annual interscholastic state ski championships at Gould Academy, Friday and Saturday, February 7 and 8. The downhill will be held at Pleasant Mt. Bridgton, Friday afternoon while the other events will be contested at Bethel on Saturday. All schools are invited to enter. If properly certified by their respective schools.

The winning team takes possession of Principals Association trophy for one year. The three leading teams become eligible for a New England Interscholastic at Lyndonville, Vermont, February 14-15.

Application blanks and full particulars may be obtained from Director of Winter Sports, Gould Academy, Bethel, Maine.

GOULD ENTERTAINS

SOUTH PARIS WEDNESDAY

South Paris High will meet Gould at the Field House on Wednesday in a return engagement. The evening's opener will be the two J V teams "squaring-off" at 7:15. These two teams will be meeting for the first time as the Gould J V's did not make the trip to Paris with the varsity.

At 8:30 the Cardinals and Huskies will tangle for their second engagement of the year. Gould moved out Paris in the Norway victory earlier in the season but realize that Coach Foster's boys were way off-color. The home team is expecting plenty of trouble but will be in there giving their best.

It should be a game worth seeing as these Oxford County teams are evenly matched and giving the fans plenty of thrills and some worries.

NORWAY TEAM HERE FRIDAY

The Gould Academy Varsity and J V teams will play host to Norway High Friday evening. The Junior Varsity teams will meet at 7:15 and the main attraction will start about 8:30. For the first time in many years the Norway team comes here as favorites to win. They now have the best record in this section having lost only one game this season. The visitors have a big team with their forwards and center doing the brunt of the scoring. Coach Small's aggregation looks like the team that may cap the honors but you never can tell in basketball.

Coach Anderson's quintet lost two close affairs two weeks ago but came back last week to take Mexico 54-32 and Old Orchard 57-29. The home team will be in there battling to the finish on Friday. One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected as Norway will have a host of backers with them.

GOULD TAKES MEXICO 49-37

Behind 17-9 midway of the second period Gould Academy fought an uphill battle to finally win out, on the Pines own floor, by a 49-37 score. It was the shooting of 23 points by Allen and timely play by Ted Young who scored 10 points after he was inserted into the game that turned the tide for the "BLUE AND GOLD." Davis and Wood handled the ball off the boards while Foster played his best game of the year.

For the Pines, Whylock was outstanding as he scored 16 points ably assisted by Breau with eight points.

The Gould J V's came through in the preliminary with a 30-21 victory.

CHARTER NIGHT

Thirty-seven members attended the Lions meeting at Bethaven Inn Monday night, Jan. 27 at which time the following residents became members of the club: Rev. Kingsley Hawthorne, Henry H. Hastings, Francis G. Noyes, Dana G. Brooks Jr., Richard S. Waldron, Addison C. Saunders and Walter T. Cander.

Next meeting on Feb. 10th with Richard L. Davis and Charles W. Chapman on entertainment committee.

LIONS CLUB SHOW

SET FOR MARCH FIRST

Following up their successful production of a minstrel show last year, the Bethel Lions Club is planning a super-ravenshow which will include all members of the club for March first in the William Bingham gymnasium. Without disclosing all the surprises awaiting the Bethel public, it may be mentioned that already "in the works" are plans for a wrestling match, which will employ the professional services of "The Masked Terror," a Maine behemoth noted for his rough tactics, and an opponent yet to be named; there will be a bathing beauty contest with twelve specimens of pulchritude who will make Earl Carroll look to his laurels; a special feature will be the Oxford County Hill Billies, a male trio who have received special coaching from the Andrews Sisters as to how best to produce true nasal tones; a woodman's contest to be arranged by "Phil Chadbourne," ensemble singing with volume and quality by the entire club, and a typical "Lions" club meeting in condensed form, in addition to a Quiz Contest with cash for the winners.

Reserved seats will go on sale on about February fifteenth; there will be a dance after the show. The receipts from this activity are all turned in to the Lions Community Fund, which is used for the betterment of many Bethel town projects. From the last year's show, a fair amount went to the furtherance of the improvements of the Community Room.

GOULD SKIERS CAPTURE

THREE FIRST PLACES

N LYNDON MEET

The Gould skiers with very little practice made a creditable showing in the 5-way meet held at Lyndonville, Vermont.

Dick Ireland won both downhill and slalom while Hunt and Powers turned in good times. The jump was in excellent shape but proved tricky for our competitors. They all suffered at least one fall in regular jumps. Every Gould man leaped over eighty feet on each jump with Powers turning in twin leaps of 88.

Bob Croteau set the pace in the cross country run capturing his individual win in ski competition. He turned the 2 1/2 mile course in 12:23 minutes with no deductions for time consumed in climbing over many cattle fences. Dick Ireland placed 4th in the event with Powers right on his heels.

The Kimball Union Academy meet scheduled for Bethel has been postponed until March 8 because of icy conditions.

Long Fight for Freedom Continues

Korea a Sore Spot in Far Eastern Politics

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, — "Reveal the secret clauses in the Yalta agreement and the American people will demand a free and independent Korea." That is what you hear from the earnest group of Koreans and Americans who will be waving a tearful but hopeful farewell to their beloved leader and friend—the venerable Dr. Syngman Rhee—as he departs for the land of the morning calm for the second time since his exile 40 years ago. Dr. Rhee's followers consider him the legitimate head of the provisional Korean government set up by those leaders fortunate enough to escape when Japan dealt Korea its final, crushing blow in 1905.

Presidents of the United States since Theodore Roosevelt's time, state department and other government officials have been consistently sympathetic and stubbornly uncooperative with the effort of this unflinching patriot to obtain recognition of his country. They did not frown on his return to Korea when it was "liberated" by the defeat of Japan. They put no obstacles in the way of his choice as head of the group which set up a provisional government of Korea. They permitted that group to send an observer to the U. N. but when Dr. Rhee returned from Korea in December of last year his efforts to make his voice heard before the international body were blocked by the state department which the aging doctor has sought since Pearl Harbor.

Today Korea is a nation bisected by the 38th parallel. The North, under Russian control, is separated by the Asiatic model of the Iron Curtain and no real Korean government exists in the Southern half, still administered by the U. S. military government. This is due, Dr. Rhee says, to the same lack of official sanction from the state department which the aging doctor has sought since Pearl Harbor.

"All we ask is that we be allowed to hold elections to set up in the American zone of Korea a national government just as the Russians have set up what they call a 'democratic government' in their zone. We only ask that the United States do for us what they have already done for Japan."

"The other liberated countries have been given this privilege. We never fought against the Allies. For more than 40 years we have carried underground work against our Japanese oppressors."

I asked if he thought the people were ready for a democratic government.

He paused a moment and said: "You may be surprised, as I was, to learn how familiar the Koreans are with the democratic system."

The Japanese, it seems, when they made their various levies upon the Koreans found they had to deal with a system that had already been set up, based on the democratic choice of a leader for a group of perhaps 20 homes which, in turn, chose their representatives for larger groups. Dr. Rhee said he found his people were much more familiar with these processes than he thought they could be even though he had followed their activities so closely through all these years. Then Dr. Rhee went on to explain that with cooperation of the military government, at least five attempts had been made to set up a national government; that each time the Communists had blocked it by refusing to join and because of the directives under which the military government was forced to operate—no government was permitted in which the Communists did not participate.

"They (the Communists) claim they have 20,000 members in the southern area—what right have 20,000, if there are that many (which I doubt), to interfere with the rights of 18 million Koreans in the southern zone?" asks Dr. Rhee.

Baukhage

Syngman Rhee Wants to Tell Secrets

In the secret agreement at Yalta, Dr. Rhee asserts: "President Roosevelt agreed that Manchuria and Northern Korea be placed in the zone of the Soviets. This was contrary to the spirit of the Atlantic Charter and the other agreements up to that time. When the American people realize this, I am sure sentiment will develop that will make it possible for Korea to become a nation again. I am going back to Korea with that hope."

Congress Scans Tax Cut; Ford Slashes Car Prices

CONGRESS:

Tax-Minded

Standing pat on their determination to scale personal income taxes and trim the 1947-48 budget of unnecessary frills, GOP house leaders massed to push through a 20 percent cut proposed by Representative Knutson (Rep., Minn.).

With the Republicans cautious about paring military expenditures because of the unsettled world situation, President Truman's budget did not leave too much room for tinkering. As a result, GOP leaders planned to concentrate on the income cut estimated at 3 1/2 billion dollars and continue the current high excise levies on liquor, furs, jewelry and other items.

Representative Taber (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the house appropriations committee, asserted the budget could be reduced at least 3 to 4 billion dollars, still assuring essential expenditures and allowing for a payment on the national debt. Such a cut would bring the budget in line with the decrease in revenue resulting from the 20 percent tax slash.

FORD:

Production Lead

Declaring that the high standard of American living was based upon mass production, Ford Motor company slashed the price of nine models from $15 to $30 to stimulate a cautious buyers' market.

Thus did Henry Ford II, youthful president of the famed auto company, steal a march on organized

HOPE FOR HOMES

Million Houses To Be Started

WASHINGTON, — Construction will be started on a million new permanent dwelling units and about 900,000 units will be completed by private builders during 1947, it is estimated by the department of commerce. The estimates compare with 675,000 units started and about 450,000 completed during 1946.

Prospects for meeting the nation's construction industry goal of 15 billion dollars, representing an increase of 30 percent over last year, were termed favorable by John L. Haynes, chief of the commerce department's construction division.

An additional outlay of 5 1/2 billion to 7 billion dollars will be made for repairs and maintenance, according to Haynes.

Haynes points out that the estimates are based "on the assumption that increases in the cost of construction will be moderate in 1947 and that any increases in the price index of materials and labor rates will be offset, in part at least, by the increased volume of building materials."

It also is assumed, he adds, "that present remaining controls on non-residential construction will be labor on the eve of negotiations for new contracts and set the pace for industry generally. As labor was to clamor for higher wages, Ford intimated that they could be paid out of increasing production of goods, with workers sharing the rising profits.

With prices away up and buyers hesitant to pay for inflated values, American industry stands at the crossroads, Ford said. Bring prices within reach of the average consumer through mass production and the U. S. may well avoid a business recession, he declared. With employee efficiency on the rise, Ford revealed that his company is turning out about 4,000 units a day, exclusive of buses and tractors.

ALLIANCE: Britain-France

Traditional allies against Germany, Great Britain and France renewed their old bond in London by agreeing to a treaty of alliance to guard against a rebirth of an aggressive reich.

Though the alliance ostensibly was directed against Germany, observers saw in the pact a strengthening of the western European powers against the expanded influence of Russia on the continent. With Britain and France serving as a core, smaller nations like Holland and Belgium might adhere to the western bloc to check the threat of communism.

In concluding their alliance, Britain and France agreed to work for the orderly development of western European economy to promote mutual prosperity and at the same time prevent establishment of a strong industrial base for war in Germany.

Emphasis was placed on harmonizing the British and French economies to remove trade conflicts and harnessing essential German industry, like coal, to the needs of neighboring countries.

GEORGIA:

Chip Off Old Block

With "Old Gena" gone, "Young Herman" kept alive the fiery Talmadge tradition in Georgia politics. When his father died before he could be inaugurated, young Talmadge mustered sufficient support in the legislature to have himself named governor; then, defying incumbent Governor Arnall, who held his election illegal, he set up his own offices in the state capitol.

Meeting young Talmadge's bold challenge, Arnall carried the issue to the state supreme court, dominated by his own appointees. But again Herman struck back by threatening to ignore an adverse court decision on the grounds that the constitution empowered the legislature to elect a governor and a denial of the right represented judicial encroachment upon the legislative branch of government.

Amid the hub-bub, one sure fact emerged: Young Talmadge had demonstrated political leadership and was a power to be reckoned with in Georgia politics.

Fatal Ignorance

Mike Clancy had been working on New York harbor tugboats for 50 years when he fell overboard and was drowned. This brought about a very fine wake, at which the highest praise was given the deceased and all the traditional ceremonies were observed.

During the proceedings, a friend of the widow asked her: "Did Mike leave you well fixed?" "Shure, an' he did that. 'Tis fifty-thousand he's after leavin' me." The friend rolled her eyes heavenward. "Tch tch tch," she said. "Think of that. And him that couldn't read nor write."

"Yes," agreed the widow, shaking her head seriously, "nor swim."

Half and Half

"Hello, Henry," said Joe to a friend he had not seen for several months, "how's everything?" "Ain't you heard, Joe?" Henry replied. "I've been divorced."

"Do tell!" said Henry. "What did you and your woman do with dat house you-all owned?"

"Oh, we divided it up," rejoined Joe, looking slightly puzzled.

"How?" "Fifty-fifty!" said Henry. "She takes de inside an' I takes de outside."

BURNING ORBS

Asked by the irate cop, "Where's the fire?" the pretty miss replied. "Why officer, in your great big beautiful eyes."

Information

When the conductor came through the train to collect fares, mother explained: "Sonny is only five years old," as she handed the conductor her fare.

When the conductor had reached the far end of the car it occurred to the boy that a very important bit of information had been overlooked, so he shouted to the conductor: "Mother is 26!"

Who's Crazy Now?

An attendant in a mental home was making his evening rounds when he came upon one of the patients industriously fishing in a washbasin with rod and line.

Wishing to humor the man, the attendant asked him if he had caught anything.

"What!" said the patient. "In a washbasin? Are you crazy?"

Reassurance

A stew was staggering along Main street with one foot on the pavement and the other in the gutter.

A passerby disgustedly said: "Brother, you're drunk!" The stew's expression of gratitude was profuse. "Oh, thank you, thank you!" he said tearfully. "I thawt my leg was off!"

Get Set First

"Have you asked your husband's advice about it?" "Not yet, but I'm going to as soon as I decide what I intend to do."

LONG EARED LAMBS

"Yes, sir," panted the new shepherd, "I got all the sheep in, but I had to run some to get the lambs." "Lambs, you idiot! Those 14 little ones are Jack rabbits!"

Back Talk

"You seem to have plenty of intelligence for a man in your position," sneered a lawyer, cross-examining a witness.

"If I wasn't under oath I'd return the compliment," replied the witness.

What a Play!

Playwright — That suit you're wearing looks as if you had slept in it.

Critic — I have. I wore it last night to the opening of your play.

THE SAGA OF MAN

1—Caveman digs a good cave. (Unassisted.)

2—He builds a stout club of bone and stones without clock or calendar. The 'jungle-to-jungle' phase.

3—He takes up the battle for existence with one thought: survival and some occasional raw meat.

4—He makes himself the equivalent of a pair of shoes and is quite happy.

5—The perils of an uncivilized world make it tough. He sees a man about a stouter club.

6—Man progresses to a point where he is safe from annihilation by wild beasts. He thanks the ancient gods.

7—He turns shepherd and watches flocks by night, without any device for overtime.

8—He spends a few generations evenly divided between toiling and fighting. He expresses thanks there is not more fighting. He discovers there are moments when he does NOT sweat. He sees a doctor.

9—He hears of Magna Carta and falls to his knees in gratitude.

10—He migrates on a frail bark and lands on a stern and rockbound coast. He thanks God.

11—He survives a tough winter by hard work, dauntless courage and extreme sacrifice. He sees a need for Thanksgiving.

12—He clears the fields of rocks, hacks down the trees and builds his cabin with his own hands, fighting bears and Indians on the side. He works from sunrise to sunset. He sees Injun chiefs about better peace treaties.

13—He fights every known adversity, even on Saturdays and Sundays.

14—He blazes a trail through a wilderness and across the mountains by covered wagon. He sees a man about a better gun.

15—He throws off the foreign yoke and rejoices in a chance to be free and independent.

16—He builds a nation with no thoughts of the long hours or the vacation period. The border-to-border phase.

17—He gets the 12-hour day and is glad to walk five miles to the shop if the job is steady.

18—The horse car comes in and he sees a man about getting it routed within a mile of the factory.

19—He gets the 10-hour day. The trolley car is invented. He sees a man about getting the car line to pass within 10 blocks of the factory. He succeeds. He is grateful.

20—He gets the eight-hour day and goes to work in his own silver. He sees a man about getting a limousine.

21—He works the 40-hour week and goes to and from work in his Imperial eight. He discovers there are moments when he DOES sweat. He sees an organizer.

22—He discovers he has to leave the car at the gate. The portal-to-portal phase. His feet ache. He sees a chiropractor.

23—He sees his lawyer.

24—He sees for portal-to-portal pay.

Railroad Tickets Out of Slot Machines

The Pennsylvania railroad is installing an automatic ticket vending machine. You drop in your money and out comes your transportation, like gum, peanuts or cigarettes.

This brings to the weary railroad traveler a sigh of relief unheard of since the wood-burning locomotive days. At last it is demonstrated that it is possible for a traveler to get a railroad ticket without any manifestations of boredom, indifference or slow motion.

No long waits in line while a ticket window attendant stokes his "Jim the Penman" tableau. No delays while he goes through those complex and mysterious operations with something that looks like a cross between a bandage, a set of naturalization papers and an income tax report!

A fellow who is getting unusual acclaim for foresight just now is the husband who told his wife he would buy her a fur coat on her birthday, knowing it fell after July 1, 1947.

The Army-Navy Game games, after the 1947 one, will not be held for several years, but already we got a call from a man who wants to know "how's chances for two tickets for 1950?"

ARMY ENLISTMENT

Q. What educational benefits do I get under the GI Bill of Rights?

A. If you serve honorably on active duty for a period of 90 days, one day of which is served between September 16, 1940, and the date of termination of the present war, or you are discharged because of an actual service-incurred injury or disability incurred within that first 90-day period of service, you are, upon discharge, entitled to one year of education in the college, trade or business school of your choice for which you can qualify. In addition, each month of active duty, including the first three months of post-service education, up to 48 months.

Your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year will be paid by the government. Also, you will receive $65 a month living allowance; $90 a month if you have dependents.

Kathleen Norris Says:

The Governess Wife

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"I asked to see his checkbook the other day and the young man had to explain quite a few details to me."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

DON'T marry a man with the idea that it will be easy to change him. It never works; they don't change. They may develop qualities and tastes that surprise you—you may find the man you thought a stay-at-home likes to go out every night, or that the man you thought a night-club favorite never wants to leave his own fireside. Such surprises as that are the very common-places of marriage.

But not changes. The jealous sweetheart will continue to be jealous, the lazy man who is always changing jobs will go on shifting, the lad who drinks too much and gambles away his money will go right on drinking and gambling.

The other day I had a talk with a bride-to-be. It struck me as extremely ominous, and I've been wondering ever since if the promised husband has any idea of the training in store for him. All the conditions of their marriage seem to be ideal, good social standing, old family friendships, comfortable income and a most attractive apartment ready and waiting. But the bride's attitude is not so promising.

She was buying gloves, with one of her bridesmaids as companion, and chattered quite freely of her plans.

Tom, it seems, has to make business trips to New York now and then and likes to make them by plane, but Sharon has stopped that. "I'm deathly afraid of planes," she explained, "and I put my foot down."

"Don't Let Precedents Start," it also appeared that she had been quite frank about Tom's mother. Tom wanted to stop off at Santa Barbara and see his mother, on his honeymoon trip to Mexico; Sharon said no. "Once you start that sort of thing it establishes a precedent," she told me. "Duck hunting was mentioned, Tom is a famous shot. 'I think that young man's duck hunting days are over,' Sharon murmured confidently, eyeing a beautiful glove on her beautiful hand.

"He's going to be the best-trained husband to town," she said happily. His friends won't know him. I asked to see his checkbook the other day, and the young man had to explain quite a few details to me. "That the time to train them is in the very beginning."

I was too stunned to reply. If she had been talking of an arduous puppy it might have been intelligible, but Tom is a well-bred, vital, assertive human being, with a fine mind, a fine education and a fine war record. He paid for her gloves and went her happy way, and I went mine with a feeling of intense pity for Tom.

There are ways, of course, in which wives can exert influence, the little ways of neatness and consideration and promptness and thrift. But those occasions when suggestions are in order come only now and then, and should be handled naturally, with affection and tact. Men change, and women do too, in a happy marriage, but they change without knowing it, the miracle of growing trust and companionship and improvement is never visible, and certainly never cut-and-dried before ever the marriage takes place.

So I have great fears for the marriage of Sharon and Tom, and feel reasonably sure that he will grow restless under this organized control, and break away from her.

"He may never leave his friends."

MAKING HIM OVER

Women have tried many, many times to reform their husbands, to "make them over," but it has rarely been successful. Men cling stubbornly to their ways, resistant to appeals and pressures. This is especially true in regards to personal habits, likes and dislikes. Sometimes, where a man realizes in his heart that he is at fault, he will, with his wife's aid, struggle to change his ways. When he is convinced that he is right, however, he will seldom yield, at least not permanently.

Miss Norris in today's article tells about a bride who is starting off wrong and is heading for trouble. She is quite attractive and intelligent, but she is not keen enough to realize that trying to make over a big, successful, well-educated young man is fatal to happy married life.

She doesn't want him to travel by air, or go hunting, or visit his mother in California and that's just a start; she intends to "train" him in her ways of thinking and acting. Sooner or later Tom is going to rebel and he is going to tell Sharon bluntly that he intends to have his own way in personal matters. Sharon may bristle up and the quarrel that leads to the divorce court will have begun. If she has learned anything of human nature by that time, however, she will give up trying to change her husband.

No girl should marry a man unless she likes him as he is. Sharon apparently likes Tom only for certain possibilities she sees in him, and if Tom ever suspects that he has married a governess and trainer rather than a wife, he will be infuriated.

Tactful Handling. Sometimes after years of marriage this sense of smug superiority breaks out in a wife. "Why not have that gray paper in the hall?" the husband suggests. "Because it would be perfectly ridiculous, dear," says the wife. "Why would it be ridiculous? Wasn't our old room at home that way?" "Our old room was simply hideous," the wife returned smoothly, "and everyone knows you have no taste, darling."

One wife I know merely smiles and listens when her husband holds forth at breakfast about something he likes or doesn't like in domestic matters. She smiles, listens with family raised eyebrows, and very slightly shakes her head, for the benefit of her daughters.

"Just as soon as he goes," her expression tells them, "we'll fix it all our way."

Very few men, no matter how abrupt or absent-minded or absorbed, treat their wives to this sort of arrogant rudeness. Instead there appears to be a general impression that Mommy does know best about things. So some of them alienate their own families, give up old friends and comfortable habits, pay uncomplainingly for furniture and wallpaper they don't really like, for long years and years. But there comes a breaking point, and wives might as well be on the watch not to reach it. To try to change a man is usually to lose him entirely.

Lamp Sterilizes Milk. An ultra violet ray lamp capable of killing airborne bacteria has been produced by the Westinghouse Electric Corp. for use in dairy barns.

The new device, known as sterilamp, can reduce the amount of such bacteria by 90 per cent, Allen Dessart, lamp allocation engineer for the company said.

"Milk in healthy cows is uncontaminated, but as soon as it leaves the cow it is on its own," he said. "Few foods provide such an excellent medium for bacterial growth."

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Brisk Winter Days Stimulate Appetite For Substantial Food

A fluffy, golden browned casserole is ideal supper fare for cold nights. This one combines protein foods such as dried beef and eggs with the vegetable, which is whole kernel corn.

Make Hearty Meals

When the family comes tramping home on cold nights with the appetites of woodsmen, many a homemaker is put to the acid test of really filling them up with plenty of hearty, nourishing food.

Sometimes appetites seem endless, especially when the food is not suited to weather or to work and play, but there's an answer to all this.

Hearty foods solve the puzzle best, so bring out the stews so rich in vegetables and inexpensive cuts of meat, casseroles with sauces and gravy and top them off with hunger-satisfying desserts. Don't forget the vegetables and fruits as these are an important cog in balancing the meal and rounding it out.

Another easy trick to take the edge off sharp appetites is to serve a piping hot soup of some kind just before dinner. This may be light or hearty depending upon the type of family you have. This, too, is economical because you can use bones from roasts or the carcass of a fowl from dinner and toss in some vegetables, and have enough soup for several days.

A soup is nice to serve before the following casserole. Top it off with a fruit salad and an easy-to-make pudding dessert, and you have the meal complete.

Corn-Chipped Beef Souffle.

(Serves 6)

4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup flour
1 cup milk
4 eggs, separated
1 cup whole kernel corn
1 cup shredded chipped beef (about 3 ounces)

Melt butter, blend in flour and add milk. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Stir hot sauce into well beaten egg yolks, add corn and shredded beef. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, lightly but thoroughly. Turn into a six-cup casserole and bake in a moderate (325-350-degree) oven for one hour until a knife inserted comes out clean.

Salmon-Lima Bean Casserole.

(Serves 6)

2 tablespoons dried onion
2 tablespoons fat
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 fall can salmon
2 cups green lima beans, cooked
2 slices bread
2 tablespoons butter

Cook onion in fat until golden brown and tender. Add flour and blend. Stir in milk and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Alternate layers of flaked salmon, lima beans (which have been drained) and white sauce in a greased casserole, ending with white sauce. Butter bread and cut in cubes. Sprinkle over top of casserole and bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes or until golden brown.

LYNN SAYS:

Tricks for Homemakers

Save Time, Energy

To prevent lumping, store brown sugar in a moist place, such as a breadbox. Confectioners' and powdered sugar may be stored in tightly covered containers.

The brownish color on the surface of used tin pans is tin oxide. This is a better conductor of heat than the tin, thus explaining why cakes brown so much more easily in used tins than in new ones.

Recipe given.

*Lamb Stew, Parsley Dumplings.

(Serves 6)

Buy 2 1/2 pounds lamb shoulder, chuck or shank. Cut the meat in one-inch cubes, dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper and cover tightly after adding two cups of broth or water. Simmer slowly for 30 minutes and then add whole small sliced onions or sliced onion rings, sliced carrots, diced potatoes and 1 1/2 cups drained peas. Cover tightly and cook until vegetables are tender, about 45 minutes, adding more water or stock if necessary.

To make parsley dumplings, sift 2 cups of flour with 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Add 1 well beaten egg, 3 tablespoons melted butter and 1/2 cup milk. Mix to a moist stiff batter and add 3 tablespoons minced parsley. Drop by spoonfuls onto stew, cover closely and cook without lifting cover for 18 minutes.

Remove dumplings to platter and arrange with meat and vegetables. Thicken gravy in pan with flour-water paste. Add a dash of Worcestershire sauce and pour over stew. Serve at once.

How do you plan your desserts? Well, naturally you want them to go with your main dish, but consider their planning from another point of view also. If you're using the oven, have a baked dessert to utilize heat to the fullest. If you're cooking a top-of-the-stove meal, make a refrigerator dessert so as not to use the oven for just one thing.

American Pudding.

(Serves 6)

1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 teaspoons shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
4 tablespoons currants
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup honey
1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift flour, measure, then sift with baking powder. Cream one half of shortening, add sugar. Add milk and flour, alternately beating until smooth after each addition. Add currants and lemon rind. Turn into greased baking dish. Combine remaining shortening, honey, water and salt and pour over batter. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm with cream.

This next recipe is truly a hasty pudding. It's quickly made and delicious, too, now that whipped cream and marshmallows, absent so long from our grocery shelves, are back with us again.

Make the most of your lamb stew by serving it in your prettiest deep platter with vegetables, parsley-flecked dumplings and tender morsels of lamb riding on top of the savory gravy.

*Hasty Pudding.

(Serves 6)

To one cup of whipped cream, add 1 cup brown sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Blend thoroughly. Add 15 graham crackers which have been broken into small pieces; 4 bananas, quartered and sliced, and 16 marshmallows which have been snipped with scissors into small pieces. Mix lightly and chill well before serving.

This hasty pudding can be dressed up beautifully for a company dinner in tall glasses and topped with a garnish of whipped cream and a dab of red jelly or jam or a cherry.
